MERCY TALKS PROPOSED BY RUSSIA

Horse Show To Be Held Friday, May 7

The Murray High School Parent Teacher Association will present a horse show on Friday May 7, according to Nat Ryan Hughes, chairman of the finance committee of the group, which is sponsoring the event.

The finance committee yesterday said that this will be the only event of the year which will be used to raise funds for PTA projects, and hoped to raise enough money to last for the entire year.

In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, the finance committee is composed of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Farris, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Banks, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Doran, Mr. and Mrs. Tip Doran, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Ferguson, and Mr. and Mrs. Verne Kyle.

The horse show will be held at Holland Stadium at Murray High School, and some of the top show horses in Kentucky and Tennessee will be shown.

Entries thus far include show horses from Memphis, Humboldt, Jackson, Tennessee and Whitesburg, Clinton and Paducah, Kentucky.

The show will start at 7:30 p.m. and will be postponed to a later date if it rains on that day.

Admission in advance will be 50 cents and 75 cents at the gate. Reserve seat tickets around the ring will be available at Wallis Drug and at the gate. Committees have been appointed to handle all arrangements for the show, including concessions.

Jellison Has Lead Role

Miss Jennie Lou Jellison, daughter of Mrs. Louise Jellison of Murray, has one of the leading roles in the play, "Royal Family," to be produced by the Murray State College Theatre on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evenings of this week in the college auditorium.

The three-act comedy's plot centers on the activities of the Cavendish family, a noted clan of actors, explained Director W. J. Robertson. When Gwen Cavendish, portrayed by Miss Jellison, refuses to follow in the Cavendish stage tradition, general havoc is created. The director further explained.

Others playing major roles are Mrs. C. S. Lowry of Murray, Vicki Thomas, Tom Russell, Leon Bennett, and Tom Hooper. Other members of the cast are Katee Vane, Carol Chappel, Tom Stokes, Vance Nichols, Bill Warren, Diane Peake, Tom Edler, Joe Verdi, Blanton Croft, Harold Lest, and Dr. David Stevenson.

Joseph C. Miller of Murray is the stage manager assisted by Putnam, James, Jim Heath, Bob Putnam, and Jim Heath. Others on the production staff are Zoe Putnam, Bill Brook, Jean Heath, Peggy Bradford, Joette Lassiter, and Madelyn Crowley.

Graduation To Be Held At Lynn Grove

The Lynn Grove High School will hold their graduation programs in the week of May 2 to May 7.

On Friday night April 30 at 7:30, a three act play will be presented by the senior class of the school.

On Sunday May 2 the Baccalaureate service will be held at 8:00 p.m. with Rev. H. K. Sorrell, pastor of the Salem Baptist Church, bringing the message. Bro. Ralph McConnell of the Sinking Springs Baptist Church will give the invocation and benediction.

On Tuesday night May 4 the annual Junior-Senior banquet will be given at 8:00 p.m. The theme for the banquet this year is "Good Bye and Good Luck."

The commencement and graduation exercises will be on Thursday night May 6 at 8:00 p.m. The speaker for the occasion will be Professor Harry Sparks of the Education Department of Murray State College. Rev. Leslie Lee will give the invocation and benediction at this ceremony.

Mrs. Carlos Jones and her music students of the school will give several selections at the program.

The following students will receive their diplomas: John Barnett, Glenn Eaker, Jimmy Ford, Shirley Geurin, Dan Miller, Larry Pritchard, Glen Waldrop, Brenda Williams, Robert Williams and Barbara Taylor.

The public is invited to attend this ceremony.

A CRITICAL MOMENT FOR BULLFIGHTER IN SPAIN

IN A DANGEROUS SPOT is matador Martos as a bull maddened by the darts thrust in his shoulder by the banderillo in a Madrid, Spain, ring, charges and starts throwing him. Moments later, the bullfighter was carried away from the arena suffering from a ten-inch gash in his right thigh. (International Exclusive)

Evacuation Of 1000 Wounded French Suggested By Reds

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent
GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Russia proposed mercy talks today for the evacuation of 1,000 wounded fighters from the blood stained French Garrison of Dien Bien Phu in Indochina.

Russian Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov made the proposal to French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault during a private conference at which Bidault pressed for an early start of peace talks to end the bloody seven-year Indochina war.

The mercy talks, Molotov suggested, should be between the Communist forces of Indochina and the pro-French Vietnamese.

It was the one bright spot in a day in which the 19-nation Far Eastern peace conference seemed to move steadily toward deadlock on all fronts.

U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles bluntly rejected a Communist proposal for a peace settlement in Korea which he said would "destroy the existing government and replace it by a Communist puppet regime."

The Communist-North Korean proposal, introduced Tuesday by Red Foreign Minister Nam Il, had called for a Korean settlement based on Soviet styled rigged elections and withdrawal of all foreign troops within six months.

Dulles told the conference's third session:

"The United States must reject that proposal because it does not meet the requirements of a free, unified and independent Korea, for which so much blood has been expended and suffering endured."

On the Indochina issue, Molotov rejected Bidault's request for an immediate start on those peace talks because Bidault would have excluded Ho Chi Minh.

Russia insisted the Indochinese Communists must sit in.

The Soviet spokesman who announced Molotov's proposal for a meeting to decide on evacuation of Dien Bien Phu wounded, said that the Communists could have taken it at any time in the past five days but apparently had held off for political reasons.

The Western powers also have made it clear they will insist upon strong guarantees against later Communist seizure of Indochina before agreeing to a cease fire in the bitter, seven-year-old war.

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, acting as spokesman for the West, spent 50 minutes in private conference with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov today in an attempt to get the Indochina talks going immediately.

Informed sources said the effort failed over the issue of the composition of the Indochina conference.

The United States and Britain have raised no objection to representatives of the Indochinese Communists taking part. But France is faced with a threat by Vietnam Chief of State Bao Dai to boycott any Indochina talks to which representatives of Ho are invited.

Child Systematically Beaten By Mother

NORWALK, Calif. (AP) — Doctors fought today to restore the deformed body of 9 year old Celia Sanchez who said she still loved her mother, despite 18 months of torture in which the mother:

Twisted her arms until they broke "with a crunching noise."

Struck her so hard in the face she was blinded in one eye.

Beat her back into a mass of welts with a rubber hose.

Knocked out six of the girl's upper teeth.

Squeezed her hands until the bones broke.

Smashed the girl's nose by breaking it several times with the hose and her fists.

Sheriff's deputies, acting on a tip, seized Mrs. Triniada Vera, 28, and found Celia cowering behind a pile of dirty clothes in Mrs. Vera's home.

Celia has seven children, including Celia, and is expecting her eighth.

Celia broke into tears when she officers said they were taking her from her mother.

Deputies said Mrs. Vera admitted that she savagely and systematically beat the girl during the past 18 months.

Mrs. Vera was arrested after a neighbor reported that Celia was slowly being beaten to death. She was booked on a charge of child beating which carries a maximum sentence of two years imprisonment.

Juvenile Sgt. Ed Flouton said Mrs. Vera had kept the girl out of school since the first grade because she "didn't want anyone to know about the beatings."

He said Celia was trained to hide in a closet whenever strangers came to the house and been injured by saying, "I fell off my tricycle," or "I tumbled and fell down."

The frightened little girl whimpered as she attempted to run crooked fingers over her swollen nose by lowering her head to her hands. Her shoulders were frozen into immobility by untreated injuries, and her arms extended grotesquely because of apparent fractures that healed without medical attention.

"I used to be able to see out of both eyes," said the little victim as physicians examined her useless eye.

Detectives said the father of Celia and an 11 year old sister died several years ago and that Mrs. Vera has had five children by her present husband, Joe Cruz Vera, 42, a construction laborer.

Investigators said Mrs. Vera apparently had not mistreated any of the other children.

No After-Effects Reported From Anti-Polio Shots

By UNITED PRESS
Not a single child has suffered ill effects from the new anti-polio inoculations although a few have been upset emotionally by the needle's sting, reports shower today.

Doctors administering the shots to school kids in a nationwide experiment to determine the vaccine's effectiveness against infantile paralysis said none of the children suffering welts, fever, or any other immediate disorder from the vaccine itself.

At Detroit, doctors said a few youngsters became sick from "emotional reaction" resulting from nervousness over the needle's prick. Children who objected too strenuously weren't given shots.

Most of the Detroit kids bragged, however, that "it didn't hurt a bit."

In fact, doctors in almost every community where tests are being conducted praised the courage of the children as they lined up to receive the inoculations.

"I anticipated lines of crying, frightened children," said Dr. Thomas J. Martin at Public School 31 in Buffalo, N.Y. "There wasn't a tear all morning."

Dr. Daniel J. Hurley, Nevada state health officer, said he saw only one child cry at four schools where 400-500 children received shots. He said any reaction, such as that caused by an allergy to the vaccine, would have shown up immediately after the children were inoculated.

Dr. Garth G. Myers of the Utah Health Department said children who have shown sensitivity to penicillin or streptomycin were excluded from the tests.

In New York City, where more than 14,000 youngsters have been inoculated, a few were excused from taking the shots because they were frightened. Some school teachers handed out lollipops and jelly beans to ease their charges through the ordeal.

New York mothers received a letter from the state health department asking them to provide free soda pop for school children who will begin taking inoculations Thursday. He said the children would be nervous and the drinks might make them sick.

Kirksey Seniors To Present Play

The Senior class of Kirksey High School will present their play, "Adam's Evening," on Friday evening, April 30, at 7:45, in the school auditorium.

The plot is centered around Adam Adams, who starts a riot in the Adams household, by telling his wife a fib. As the play progresses, he finds himself in a terrible mess.

The cast includes Richard Adams as Adam Adams; Anna Lou Dovers as Anna Adams; Clara Ellison as Mrs. Bean, Anna's mother; Bud Gibbs as Casper, a colored servant; Alea Cunningham as Gertie, the maid; W. A. Erwin as Dr. Fragoni, the family physician; Anna Adams as Rosita, the doctor's wife; Walker Wylst as Elmer Green, who wants to die; Duane Jones as Mr. Cokes, who ought to be dead, but isn't; and Claude Manning as Mrs. Cokes, who wishes he was for the insurance.

There will be plenty of good entertainment and laughs for all. The public is invited.

Andrew Cunningham Funeral Will Be Held Today

Funeral services for Mr. Andrew Cunningham of Murray Route Three will be held this afternoon at the Campbell Funeral Home in Cadiz.

Mr. Cunningham, age 75, passed away at his home Tuesday morning about three o'clock. He had been in declining health for several years, but his death was sudden. He died in his sleep with a total of 62 per cent of normal with a total of 2,055 acres of strawberries harvested.

The department said the marked decline in production stems from drought conditions and a shortage of farm labor. The department said that a large pool of seasonal labor is required during the picking and crating operations.

Estimates place the 1954 crop at 65,000 crates and the average production for the past four years was 308,000 crates.

The picking season starts about May 1 in Western Kentucky, and about May 17 in northern sections of the state.

State Strawberry Crop Is Light

FRANKFORT (AP) — The Kentucky 1954 strawberry crop will total only 55 per cent of normal, the state Department of Agriculture predicted today.

A report issued by the department showed that an estimated 1,790 acres of berries will be gathered this year, only slightly more than half the average acreage during the past four years.

Last year production was only 62 per cent of normal with a total of 2,055 acres of strawberries harvested.

The department said the marked decline in production stems from drought conditions and a shortage of farm labor. The department said that a large pool of seasonal labor is required during the picking and crating operations.

Funeral For Mother Of Local Man Is Held

The funeral for Mrs. Letha Kemper, mother of C. Wesley Kemper of Murray, was held at the Roberts Funeral Home in Mayfield Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with the Rev. H. J. Burkett officiating.

Mrs. Kemper passed away Sunday at her home near Mayfield. She is survived by her husband, Dr. C. C. Kemper; one daughter, Mrs. Nanella Stairs of Mayfield; two sons, William Kemper of Detroit, Mich., and C. Wesley Kemper of Murray; one sister, Mrs. William Gargis of Covington; two brothers, Howard Callahan of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Leslie Callahan of Lynchburg, Ohio; five grandchildren; two great grandchildren.

Burial was in the Highland Park Cemetery in Mayfield.

Million And Half Settled On Yasmin

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Rita Hayworth prepared today to sign an agreement offered by her third husband, Aly Khan, which would make her daughter, Princess Yasmin, a multimillionaire on the installment plan.

Aly signed the agreement Tuesday just before he left for the racing season in London and Paris. Her lawyer, Bartley Crum, said Rita studied the document until Tuesday night to be sure that custody clauses, but he said no "difficulty" was expected.

Aly's attorney, Charles Torem, said terms of the agreement would settle about $1,500,000 on 4 year old Yasmin by the time she is 18 years old. Aly will place $100,000 a year in a trust fund in a Swiss bank, and supply $8,000 a year maintenance until the curly haired princess reaches maturity.

The question of the child's religious faith will be decided when she is 7 years old, which by Moslem code is the "age of reason."

Yasmin was taken under guard during the afternoon to visit Aly, who will have custody of her for part of each year under terms of the agreement. He said he was "satisfied" with the custody provisions "because I'm interested in the good of the child, not the good of I have in my heart."

Aly flew here Monday from Hollywood to help Rita clear herself of charges in a White Plains child dress court that she neglected little Yasmin and her other daughter, Rebecca Welles, 9, while vacationing in Florida.

Aly interrupted her courtship of another movie star, Gene Tierney, to tell the White Plains court Rita was "a loving and devoted mother."

The court absolved her of the neglect charges after she promised to send Rebecca, daughter of her second husband Orson Welles, to school.

Today's Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Apr. 28. (U-P)—Nothing is going to beat Correlation in the Kentucky Derby today, Saturday but Fagless Fraley has a sleepy sleeper for the longshot brigade which, if it ever gets off the same afternoon, may be making a good run at the front end when they hit the finish line.

My equine hopeful is a nag named King Phalanx.

Don't, for goodness sake, bet the rent money on this molasses-footed animal. He is, as I have indicated, the sleepiest haydog who ever took a snooze in the starting gate while his opposition cantered happily on its way. And even when the starting bell wakes him up, he seems to yawn and stretch far too long before he saunters out for his journey.

But once he takes the notion he can really move—even if it usually is far too late to do more than barely crowd into the picture of the finish.

Most of my friends, upon hearing of this selection, have advised me to see a competent psychiatrist. Because this kid has won one race in two years and by now has digested more dust than has been raised by the ordinary Kansas twister.

But someday, possibly Saturday, they are going to have this beast in a semi-conscious state when the whistle blows. And if he's within shouting distance when they hit the head of the stretch he'll give any of them a go. Nor will the fact that the Derby is over a longer piece of ground hurt him any, because he sure needs the extra distance when he starts making that usually late run.

As example, look at his performance in the recent Blue Grass Stakes. He was off his usual last in the 14-horse field and when they reached the quarter he still was there, 23 lengths back. At the half he was last, 20 lengths back, and still last, now only 13 lengths back at the three-quarters. At the head of the stretch he was ninth, finishing fifth a mere three lengths in back of the winning Goyamo.

That is the story of practically all his races. This year in his opening assignment he was a steady 10th all the way in a six furlong dash. Then off seventh at a mile and a sixteenth, he was second by a neck. Off eighth at six furlongs, he finished fourth, and off sixth in a seven furlong spring he finished fifth. Then came that Blue Grass effort and another eighth of a mile—the Derby distance—he would have caught them all, or so it seems.

I must remind you, before you go out and hock your watch, that this is another of the Fearless Fraley Derby specials. Others through the years have been such as Correspondent, which went from first to a final fifth place finish; Cold Command, who closed nicely from 15th to ninth; Kentucky Colonel and Liberty Road, a pair of solid 10th place finishers; Dark Jungle, who faded gallantly from third to 12th, and Diabolaw, first at the half-mile and 14th at the mile and a half.

I do not believe that even the owner of King Phalanx gives this stumbling Stepinfetchit a chance to win.

Which makes it a case of the King and I—perhaps because the price is sure to be right and the ticket will make a nice souvenir.

WOMEN MAKE HOBBY
OF LEATHERCRAFT

Homemakers in Ohio county have found leathercraft to be an engrossing hobby, notes Miss Thelma Streeter, home demonstration agent with the University of Kentucky. At the end of a two-day training school, 47 women had made 49 billfolds, 21 key cases, two booklets for books, and four glass cases, and had lined 12 large handbags and repaired 12 billfolds.

Upon request, an advanced class was held in order that tooling of leather could be taught. Of 21 handbags that were lined and tooled, two will be displayed at the national meeting of home demonstration agents in Chicago, said Miss Streeter. Other work done included the making of four belts and the repairing and lining of four purses.

EISENHOWER VISITS KENTUCKY

PRESIDENT DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER places a wreath at the foot of the statue of Abraham Lincoln during a visit to the birthplace of the Great Emancipator in Hodgenville, Ky. Later, the President talked about the ingredients of Lincoln's leadership, such as forbearance, patience and lack of a dictatorial or "Napoleonic" attitude. (International)

BIG YIELDING CORN GIVES MOST PROFIT

Corn Derby production figures released by the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics show a profit of $82.76 an acre from corn making 106 bushels, compared to $30.52 an acre from corn making 48 bushels. The high-yielding corn made a gross return of $159 an acre, at an expense of $76.24, leaving a profit of $82.76. The 48 bushel corn returned $72 an acre, at a cost of $41.48, leaving $30.52 net.

POWER-HUNGRY, EUROPE THINKS

ADDRESSING the American Newspaper Publishers' association in New York, President Eisenhower notes there is a widespread view in western Europe that the U. S. and Russia are equally "power-hungry," with "each seeking only the most propitious moment in which to crush the other by force." Such fears of America flourish, he said, because of lack of "comprehensive, truthful, two-way information" among free-nations. Seated at right is former President Herbert Hoover. CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT
"HERE'S Johnny," warned Julia, hearing the outer door close. Ravel opened the inner door. "My word! Sewell's still on crutches." "Of course. He probably will be for weeks yet." "I meant to come over here in the first place," Sewell explained, when they had got him seated at the dinner table. "Started up your lane, and then I saw a strange car parked out there and thought you had company, so I went over to Williamson's. Didn't know it was just the doctor here. That apartment of mine has got pretty lonesome since both the kids went away. I never thought I'd miss them, but I do." "Has Sally gone away too?" Gale asked innocently. Julia watched Sewell's face. It tightened slightly; then his chin set and he drew a deep breath. "I sent her down to Florida with Rhody," he said. "Rhody's throat wasn't healing right and Sally needed a change too. May go down myself after a while. We might decide to stay all summer." John-Mark was quieter somehow. Julia observed. He still looked directly into her eyes when he spoke to her, he still put on the same boyish and engaging smile, but the challenge was gone out of him. He did not stare at her with laughter or eat enormously, though Thelma worried at him and passed dishes to him coaxingly. It was a very pleasant and friendly meal. When it was over, John-Mark said, "Come over and see what I've done to the house, Dookey. The last guy in white pants has taken his brushes and ladders out of the place, and Tony and I have been sneaking away till I've got housemaid's knee and Tony groans every time he draws a breath." "Let me come over in the morning," Julia suggested. "Perhaps the sun will be shining then. I don't have to go back till late tomorrow." "Can't you stay overnight, doctor?" Gale asked. "We have plenty of room." Pete shook his head, smiling at her. "Sorry—I'll be on call after a while. The morning. The when the smashed-up kids who've been mixing gasoline and whisky usually get hauled in for repairs." "Pierce," Sewell said, unaware that unconsciously he was connecting Pierce with Pete's early-down casualties, "is doing fine out yonder."

Recipe of the Week

An attractively prepared food that will tempt every family member to help himself is called ring of gold. Made of carrots in a ring mold, it may be filled with buttered peas, cauliflower or lima beans, navy beans, or mince.

King of Gold

1 c milk
1 c soft bread crumbs
1 t salt
1 t pepper
1 t thyme
1 t marjoram
3 eggs
2 cups cooked carrots

Scald the milk, add bread crumbs, salt, pepper and other seasonings if desired. Cool slightly and stir in beaten egg yolks. Add carrots that have been put through a ricer or are finely chopped. Fold in beaten egg whites. Turn mixture into a well-oiled ring mold. Set the mold in a pan of water deep enough to come up half way on the mold. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 40 minutes, or until an inserted knife comes out clean. Loosen the edges of the ring from the mold, invert a hot plate over it and turn out carefully. To serve fill the center with other well-seasoned vegetable.

PowerFile, combined with the great new 110-horsepower PowerFlow engine, gives you lightning acceleration, with no lurch or lag. PowerFile is the low-price field's newest, smoothest fully automatic no-clutch transmission.

new Power Brakes

Give you quick, straight-line stops with only half the usual pedal pressure! For smooth, predictable stops, Plymouth's Safe-Guard brakes have two hydraulic cylinders in each front wheel, where competing cars have only one.

full-time Power Steering

Works every minute you drive, not just occasionally. Plymouth's Power Steering eliminates "wheel fight," gives you safe, precise control on rough, bumpy roads, and lets you park with just one-fifth of the normal effort!

You'll find the newest power advances in the low-price field only in the new 1954 Plymouth! And that's not all! You'll find comfort, economy and safety features that you can't buy in any other low-price car. We'd like to arrange a demonstration drive for you today—just drop in or phone.

PowerFile, Power Brakes and Power Steering each available at low extra cost.
